6. Remove the original headlight from the front fascia, and install the new halogen headlight (the spring(s) from the original headlight also need to be transferred to the new headlight in their original positions). Secure it with the original screws, as shown in Figures 13 and 14. After that, reinstall the front fascia onto the vehicle, reconnect the headlight connector, and finally put the front body rack and all the removed trim panels back in their original positions, as shown in Figures 15 and 16:
